

BUILDING CO-OPERATIVE & MUTUAL HOMES

In the new economic reality, traditional approaches to providing the homes people need are not going to work. We are now far from "business as usual". We need to consider new partnerships for the new environment.

The "Building Co-operative & Mutual Homes" scheme is a new option for financing housing development that aims to combine meeting housing needs with the additional personal and social Big Society benefits created by co-operative and mutual housing.

The scheme to be developed in partnership with local authorities and housing associations - aims to establish a loan fund - anticipated to be about £250 million - to enable development of co-operative and mutual housing.

The "Building Co-operative & Mutual Homes" proposal invites local authorities, housing associations and other partners to express an interest in the scheme. For copies of the full proposal and expression of interest, please go to www.cch.coop/bcmh
