

The CCH membership offer

CCH promotes the excellent work done by co-operative and community led housing organisations, fostering communication and serving the sector, campaigning for quality housing co-operative solutions across the United Kingdom.

CCH

The Confederation of Co-operative
Housing

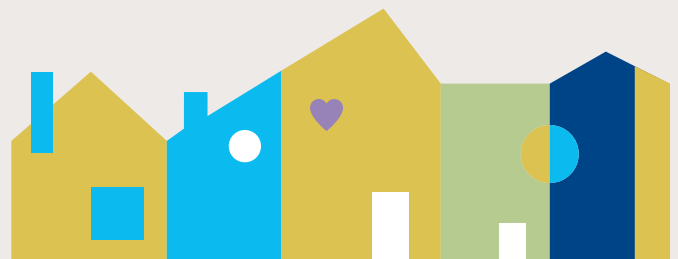

CCH membership:

- makes you part of our growing and thriving movement for change and community – housing co-operatives, tenant management organisations, cohousing societies, mutual home ownership societies and other community led housing organisations are about local people and communities developing their own housing solutions. More and more people are now doing this in many different ways.
- brings you into the global co-operative movement – it is estimated that more than one billion people (an eighth of the world's population) are members of co-operatives.
- enables you to shape the UK's co-operative and community led housing sector of the future – CCH is a major housing sector stakeholder and our membership's views matter.

Your CCH membership gives you access to:

- social housing regulation and statutory knowledge and information – including helping co-operative and community led housing organisations comply with the requirements of the Regulator of Social Housing, the Housing Ombudsman Service, and other legal responsibilities.
- our partner services – our partners provide legal and insurance services to CCH members.
- our chargeable member services – our consultative services help co-operative and community led housing organisations to become and remain strong and sustainable, and meet their day-to-day challenges.
- up-to-date information on retrofitting homes and asset management – our network of advisors can provide detailed and quality support on developing asset management plans and retrofitting your homes to meet the challenges of the future.
- intensive support and advice – helping you to develop a route map to resolve problems and challenges you face, or to develop long term financial and business plans. Those who use this service may require extensive support and guidance on a specific matter or more broadly.
- CCH resources, training and events – discounted member rates at our annual conference, our online and face to face training sessions and webinars, and free access to our online and face to face member only forums held throughout the year.
- information sharing and good practice – exclusive access to the member only section of the CCH website (CCH member organisations can receive up to three logins per organisation), our extensive governance and policy guidance, our good practice documents and our bi-monthly e-bulletins aimed at keeping you up to date with current news and policy.
- promotions – opportunities for you to share your experiences and to gain recognition for the good work you are doing through features in our bi-monthly e-bulletin and through our social media platforms; opportunities to share worker vacancies through our social media. CCH membership also permits you to use our member logo on your correspondence demonstrating that you are part of the co-operative housing community.
- CCH annual awards – the opportunity for you to apply for the CCH prestigious annual awards given for quality in co-operative and community led housing.

CCH membership is subject to CCH Board approval and to organisations demonstrating their compliance with the International Co-operative Alliance Co-operative Values and Principles.
