

The CCH membership offer

CCH promotes the excellent work done by co-operative housing organisations, fostering communication and serving the sector, campaigning for quality housing co-operative solutions across the United Kingdom.

CCH

The Confederation of Co-operative
Housing

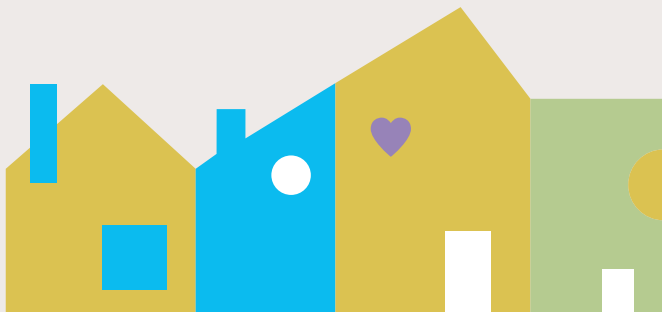

CCH membership:

- makes you part of our growing and thriving movement for change and community: housing co-operatives, tenant management organisations, cohousing societies, mutual home ownership societies and other community led housing organisations are about local people and communities developing their own housing solutions. More and more people are now doing this in many different ways.
- brings you into the global co operative movement: more than one billion people (an eighth of the world's population) are members of co-operatives; CCH is a federal member of Co-operatives UK and an active partner in Co-operative Housing International and the International Co-operative Alliance (ICA).
- enables you to shape the UK co-operative and community led housing sector of the future: CCH is an established social housing stakeholder in England and is growing its relationship across the other nations of the UK.

CCH membership gives you access to:

- social housing regulation and statutory knowledge and information: working with social housing regulators and other statutory bodies to help housing co-operatives to comply with the requirements of their regulators and legal responsibilities.
- our partner services: our partners provide legal, insurance, mutual exchange and human resources services to CCH members.
- our chargeable member services: our consultative services help housing co-operatives to become and remain strong and sustainable and meet their day-to-day challenges.
- up-to-date information on retrofitting homes and asset management: our network of accredited advisors can provide detailed and quality support on developing asset management plans and retrofitting your homes to meet the challenges of the future.
- intensive support and advice: helping you to develop a route map to resolve problems and challenges you face or to develop long term financial and business plans; those who use this service may require extensive support and guidance on a specific matter or more broadly.
- resources, training and events: discounted member rates at our annual conference, our online and face to face national training sessions and our webinars, and free access to our online member only forums held throughout the year.
- information sharing and good practice: exclusive access to the member only section on the CCH website (CCH member organisations can receive up to three logins per organisation), our governance and policy guidance, our good practice documents and our regular e-bulletins aimed at keeping you up to date with current news and policy.
- promotions: opportunities for you to share your experiences and to gain recognition for the good work you are doing through features in our e-bulletin and through our social media platforms; opportunities to share worker vacancies through our social media. CCH membership also permits you to use our member logo on your correspondence demonstrating that you are part of the co-operative housing community.

CCH membership is subject to CCH Board approval and to organisations demonstrating their compliance with the ICA's Co-operative Values and Principles.
